Since 1973, EPS has met the immediate pregnancy concerns and needs of women with compassionate services in a safe, peaceful, and non-judgmental environment. What began as a single location with two part-time employees is now a network of three centers in the metro Omaha area – Benson, Maple Village and Bellevue – providing support to women during pregnancy and longer-term.

The financial outlook for EPS is very bright. EPS is generously supported by individuals, families, businesses, foundations, schools and churches in our community and beyond. The stability that has grown in the last several years has been a huge affirmation that God is at work and ready to move EPS forward in new and exciting ways.

EPS has an active and committed Board of Directors who are vital in the planning and implementation of the organization's strategic plan. The collective vision for growth includes efforts to better meet the needs of women searching for holistic care and human services. Each Board member understands how important their role is to those with whom God has entrusted to the organization's care. The Executive Director can count on the support of the Board as (s)he leads the everyday operations of the centers.

There has never been a more exciting time for EPS. Aid the success of growing and developing EPS' women's health ministry that Jesus Christ has planned. Interested candidates should submit a cover letter and resume to the EPS Search Committee Leader/Board Member, Bob Goldsmith at: bobg@essentialps.org.
